DISARMAMENT TREATIES IN EFFECT

INTERNATIONAL PEACE MOVE IS NOW CONCLUDED

Formal Deposit of Ratifications Made at State Department

CEREMONIES SIMPLE

Most Important International Accomplishment of Harding Term

Washington, Aug. 17.—The most important international accomplishment of the Harding administration—the conclusion of treaties under which the great powers of the world agreed to scrap most of their big warships and to maintain peace in the Pacific for at least ten years—has been consummated.

The four-power Pacific treaty of the Washington armament conference between United States, Great Britain, France and Japan, which provides simultaneously for the termination of the Anglo-Jap alliance of 1911; and the five power naval treaty between these four nations and Italy, went into effect at noon today with the formal deposit of ratifications at the State Department.

The naval treaty remains in force until December 31, 1933, and the racial treaty until August 17, 1933, but both agreements will continue in effect indefinitely unless one of the contracting powers gives notice of intention to withdraw at the end of the specified period.

In the words of the late President Harding, spoken at the conclusion of the Washington conference, these treaties "have inspired a new hope for the world because they mark the beginning of a new and better epoch in human progress."

Simple ceremonies in the diplomatic rooms at the State Department marked the deposit of ratifications.

The United States was represented by Secretary of State Hughes who was chief of the American delegation at the armament conference. H. G. Chilton, chargé d'affaires of the British embassy, acted for Great Britain and André De La Boulaye, chargé d'affaires of the French embassy, for France; Senior Augusto Rosso, chargé d'affaires of the Italian embassy, for Italy, and Ambassador Masanao Hanabara, who was one of the Japanese delegates at the conference, for Japan.

Mr. Dover, a prominent Ohio politician, was in San Francisco at the time President Harding died and was called upon to act again in the capacity of director for the funeral train.

CHEMISTS SOLVE MYSTERY OF FIRES—WITHHOLD DATA

The mysterious fires at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. DeWine, near Old Town, are now practically a closed incident so far as the investigation is concerned.

Dr. Clyde F. Adams, chemist at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, and his assistant, Austin G. Edeeson, who have been investigating the mystifying cause of the conflagrations since Monday, consider the problem practically solved, they announced Friday.

Because the chemists wish to conduct further tests and desire to be absolutely certain in their deductions before they make the explanation of the fires public, they are withholding the solution until they can make a formal report in a few days. In the meantime tests will be continued designed to bring further proof of the correctness of their discoveries.

The fire Thursday morning, when washable clothing in a chest caught fire and flames shot two feet high before being discovered, is the last of the mysterious fires to visit the DeWine home. Mr. and Mrs. DeWine are still spending the nights with Mr. and Mrs. John DeWine of this city but are preparing to move into their cottage along the Little Miami river Saturday. They will occupy the cottage until assured there will be no repetition of the unusual fires.

With the announcement of chemists that they have discovered the cause of the fires, but are withholding the solution temporarily, the theory advanced by William DeWine, relative of D. A. DeWine, and Springfield and Xenia traction conductor, is exploded. He advanced the suggestion that short electric circuits in the atmosphere, caused by the house being surrounded by natural conductors, was to blame for the conflagrations.

Among the 80 others who are under indictment and arrest is John J. Powers, vice president of the Exchange bank. Others include subordinates, principally alleged run-rumbers and operators of automobiles and boats in which the liquor was transported

REPORT IS UNTRUE

Berlin, Aug. 17.—A report, believed to have originated in Paris, that Chancellor Gustav Stresemann has been assassinated, was proven untrue today. He was at his office attending to official duties.

The area extends over practically the entire state and as far west as the Dakotas all of which territory experienced a 20 degree drop Wednesday night. When the weather bureau assistant experts went to work at eight o'clock yesterday morning the temperature was 62 but shortly after this hour a gradual change, hardly visible to the naked eye or skin, was noted, with the result that at noon the official mercury hovered around the 68 mark. At eight o'clock last night it was again on its downward path, just passing 66. Mr. Alexander ventured the opinion it might get down as low as 60 or 55 by this morning. The cool wave will pass east in a day or two, he predicted leaving Columbus as warm as is customary at this season of the year.

TWO YEAR FIGHT WON BY WOMAN IN LIQUOR CASE

Eighty Four Arrests Made
In Bootlegging Investigation

LEADERS IN TOLLS

Assistant Attorney-General
Victorious in Long Battle for Law.

Washington, Aug. 16.—Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt, assistant attorney general, won a two-year fight against what she said was America's greatest bootlegging venture.

As a result 84 arrests have been made in Savannah, Ga. Of this number a quartet of leaders are known throughout the United States whenever bootleggers thrive as the "big four," according to William J. Burns, head of the bureau of investigation.

The long hunt for the alleged ring-leaders has been carried on with the greatest secrecy, Mrs. Willebrandt said. The trail led to almost every section of the United States east of the Mississippi. Untold quantities of liquor found its way to the principal marts through the ingenuity of the "big four," who in turn amassed fabulous wealth, according to Mrs. Willebrandt.

The attention of Mrs. Willebrandt to the case was called when federal officials learned that most of the illicit liquor sold in America came through Savannah. It was impossible at first to associate any of those arrested with connection with the liquor, Mrs. Willebrandt said, so it was determined to check up the suspects under the income tax laws.

Examination of checks and deposits in the banks led to indictments for failure to pay income taxes. In getting the necessary papers before the grand jury in this matter, documents were found which led to the procurement of other evidence.

As a result, the "big four" were indicted, charged with failure to pay income taxes, violation of several sections of the Volstead act and the customs law against smuggling, as well as "conspiracy."

William Haar is said to be the king of them all. He is the son of a German grocer, himself at one time a grocery clerk. Now he is rated as one of the wealthiest young men in Georgia. From small operations, beginning at home with small boats operating to run smugglers, he has developed into America's greatest importer, she said. As an evidence of the size of his individual operation, he is charged with owing the treasury an income tax of $1,000,000, in addition to what he already has paid.

Others making up the "big four" are said to be C. Graham Bough, Richard Bailey and Sam Goldberg. Each of these is said to have had a separate organization, in no way associated with the others financially.

The fire Thursday morning, when washable clothing in a chest caught fire and flames shot two feet high before being discovered, is the last of the mysterious fires to visit the DeWine home. Mr. and Mrs. DeWine are still spending the nights with Mr. and Mrs. John DeWine of this city but are preparing to move into their cottage along the Little Miami river Saturday. ### HIGH PRESSURE WAVE CAUSES COLD SNAP

Columbus, Aug. 17.—Weatherman Alexander yesterday held a high pressure wave, circling out of the Northwest, responsible for the prevailing cool wave.

The area extends over practically the entire state and as far west as the Dakotas all of which territory experienced a 20 degree drop Wednesday night. When the weather bureau assistant experts went to work at eight o'clock yesterday morning the temperature was 62 but shortly after this hour a gradual change, hardly visible to the naked eye or skin, was noted, with the result that at noon the official mercury hovered around the 68 mark.

Thus far, however, there has not been sufficient proof that this combination among the old companies has gone far enough to establish clearly that "illegal agreements" are in existence.

The relation of the so-called independent oil companies to the larger concerns also is being made the subject of investigation. The records of these producers are being carefully examined by legal experts of the department, and will be submitted later to the attorney general.

STEUBENVILLE'S KLAN WAR TAKES ANOTHER TURN

Victim of Bullets Found On Street Early Friday Morning.

Steubenville, O., Aug. 17.—Steubenville's Klan war threatened to break out anew at an early hour this morning when John Marvin, 42, miner, and alleged klanman, was found bleeding and unconscious on South Sixth street after being shot twice by an unknown assailant. Marvin is reported to be in a critical condition in a local hospital.

Officials are of the belief that Marvin's alleged connection with the Ku Klux Klan caused the shooting. Early this morning, no clues to his assailants had been obtained. There were no eyewitnesses to the shooting although persons in the neighborhood heard six shots.

Marvin was returning home from work when he was shot from ambush. Local Klan officials this morning would not discuss the shooting, saying only that it would be investigated.

Suppressed excitement prevailed throughout this city last night when rumors were afloat that the Klansmen from neighboring cities were mobilizing and would make a huge demonstration during the evening on Steubenville's downtown thoroughfares.

Day and night police, detectives, and a big force of county officers patrolled the streets until midnight but the threatened demonstration did not materialize.

Mayor Frank Hawkins, Prosecutor Stanton Pearce and Sheriff Edward Lucas have ordered the suspension of all public meetings until the tension that now exists dies down. The authorities are dispersing gatherings on the street corners.

The Klan war took a new turn late Thursday when in an open statement to the press, the Steubenville Klan denounced Mayor Frank Hawkins and Chief of Police Blaine Carter and demanded their resignations. The statement says that Hawkins was a former member of the Klan but was ousted because of violation of his oath.

COOLIDGE MEANT JUST WHAT HE SAID,

Those doubting Thomases who have been perturbed at what might happen to the national welfare because of President Coolidge's succession had their answer. The definite reassertion of the Harding program, foreign and domestic, by the President and a united and harmonious Cabinet will show the country that Mr. Coolidge meant what he said the morning President Harding died. It will be received everywhere with relief and profound satisfaction.

Mr. Coolidge's first Cabinet meeting possessed a significance which may attach to no other assemblage of his official advisers during the entire course of his incumbency. For its decisions and the relations which were found to exist among its members will be universally interpreted as marking the keynote of the Coolidge administration, the seal of its stability and the index of intelligent determination.

The promise to adhere to the Harding policies made by Mr. Coolidge in his earliest announcement to the people must now be accepted everywhere, at home and abroad, at full par value. And the reassertion by all the members of the Cabinet of their intention to retain their places and discharge their duties as though there had been no interruption of the continuity of their tenure is an assurance to the country against unsettling uncertainty that often attends a change so momentous as the installation of a new directing head of the Federal Government.

But the Cabinet went further than merely to make general promises in dealing with all unfinished issues and problems. There was comfort and reassurance for the people of the Middle Atlantic and New England States in the statement that no measures would be omitted to protect their interests in the matter of a fuel supply in the event of a strike and that it would be the purpose of the Federal authorities to see that substitute fuels were forthcoming.

In the wider field of foreign relations the accord of the President and Cabinet was no less reassuring. The definite announcement was made that the Coolidge administration would stand firmly by the policies formulated in Secretary Hughes' New Haven speech last December. In that carefully studied utterance the Secretary made it plain that while the United States was by no means indifferent to the problems and troubles of Europe and stood ready to contribute its share in their adjustment, the question was essentially a European one, the crux of which was reparations.

In reaffirming this general position of helplessness and of disinterestedness with respect to reparations, the Government stands by its policy that the foreign war debts owed to this country must be paid, holdings now, as it did then, "that Germany's capacity to pay is not at all affected by the indebtedness of any of the Allies to us." The march of events in Europe, and especially in the Ruhr, has not materially changed that position, but has strengthened the determination of this Nation not to be drawn into the drawn into the conflict of interest and ambitions which are now vied by all the parties in interest. The President and the Cabinet are no more inclined today than they were in December, when Secretary Hughes enunciated the Government's policy, to be drawn into the conflict of interest and ambitions which are now severing the Allies and increasing the difficulties of settlement.

With the President and Cabinet united and harmonious, the country may rest content that the Government's prudent course will not be altered, that it has not been affected by the obvious propaganda from British sources devised to draw us into the maelstrom of European politics and that without seeking to intrude in those troubled waters it still holds itself in readiness to fulfill its obligations to civilization and humanity, to keep the peace and contribute to the limit of its ability to the restoration of a disorganized and demoralized world.—Public Ledger.

HIS CONSIDERATE CHARACTER

One of the most gracious and thoughtful acts of the late President Harding's life has just come to light. He had never mentioned it himself and it was told after his death by a member of his official family.

When Mr. Harding went to Washington as President he took with him his family physician, Dr. Sawyer, giving him, as is customary, a high military rank. Rear Admiral Carey T. Grayson had occupied the same post with President Wilson. He had been Mr. Wilson's physician for eight years and knew more about Mr. Wilson's ailments than any other physician. It was important to Mr. Wilson's continuance of life to his physical well-being, that Dr. Grayson remain in attendance upon him. Ordinarily, the doctor being a naval officer, would have been, upon General Sawyer's accession, transferred to another post or line of duty.

No one asked Mr. Harding about the matter and none suggested this to him. Mr. Wilson probably would have been the last man to have made such a request. But the new President immediately upon appointing General Sawyer, also issued an order directing the Navy Department to assign Rear-Admiral Grayson to continuous duty in Washington, so that he could still attend Mr. Wilson. He added to the order, making it stronger, that Dr. Grayson was not under any circumstances to be ordered elsewhere except with the President's consent. Dr. Grayson remained in attendance upon the former President.

It was a revelation of the thoughtful and considerate character of Mr. Harding.—Tampa Tribune.

MR. JAMES W. BOGART

Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. James W. Bogart, born and raised in Columbus, living at 996 Studer avenue, packer at the Federal Glass company's plant, is another strong believer in Ka-di-ohk. He says:

"Had I known about Ka-di-ohk a year or two ago I could have saved myself a lot of suffering from kidney trouble, as the very first bottle brought me relief. Before I heard of Ka-di-ohk I did not know what a good night's rest meant. I had pains across my back; was very nervous, and felt tired and worn out during the day and steadily lost weight.

"I have only used Ka-di-ohk for a few weeks and feel like a new man. I am free from backaches, eat well, and sleep fine. I am 47 years of age and am as strong and well today as I ever was. I can truly recommend Ka-di-ohk; it goes right to the spot and is a real medicine."

Ka-di-ohk is an herbal remedy and can be taken to excellent advantage as a tonic during all seasons of the year. It is especially beneficial in cases of stomach, liver, and kidney trouble, impure blood, and for persons in a rundown, debilitated condition.

THE LITTLE MERCIES

He who is good to a little child Will long remember the day she smiled.

He who has given to a stranger food Will long remember his gratitude.

He who has praised and spurned youth Will have that day to look back upon.

He who has served in an hour of need

Can cherish the thought of one kindly deed.

He who has lightened another's pain Never more may think he has lived in vain.

This for our comfort, both yours and mine, Through the gloom of failure the good will shine.

Though our dreams in ruin about us fall, We shall be blessed by our mercies small.

THE SOLITUDE OF THE SOUL

In the Chicago Institute of Art is one of the most beautiful pieces of marble creation in all America—perhaps in all the world. It is called "The Solitude of the Soul" and is by Taft.

As you walk into the impressive building, this statue stands to the right, almost hidden under the wide stone stairway.

You are immediately arrested. You stand in reverent admiration. You feel solitude in your own soul, as you study the lines of the noble figures of male and female as they are wrapped about that great piece of marble and lost in its silent heart.

You ask, what is this solitude so divinely depicted? And then the answer is already given, for you understand without being able to express this understanding.

You reach for God and He reaches for you. You cannot see Him—but you know that He comes to you.

There are times when the world seems too big for us and we want to be all alone. And so we call out for

DEATH REVEALS STRANGE ROMANCE

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 17.—Death revealed a strange romance here today when a dead man was found to have assumed the name of the husband of a woman whom he hoped to wed.

Everett C. Martin, son of a Chicago business man was crushed by an elevator at a department store where he was employed under the name of John W. Hester.

At Christ Hospital, he gave his address as 220 West Sixth Street.

Later a woman, calling herself Mrs. Etta Hester, who said she was the wife of John W. Hester of Herman and Hunter Avenues, Dayton, Ohio, called at the hospital and arranged for removal of Martin's body. The woman explained that he had taken her husband's name because, with her marriage certificate, she had resided at the Sixth Street address and he hoped to avoid being separated from her until she could obtain her legal freedom to marry him.

Hester brought suit for divorce three weeks ago, according to advices from Dayton.

REVISION OF LAW IS CONTEMPLATED

Columbus, Aug. 17.—Change in the Ohio election laws to eliminate useless expense of primaries when there are no contests for nominations was advocated by Secretary of State Brown. Large expenditures of money are involved under the present law for elections which, in many instances, are unnecessary, Brown pointed out. In a number of cities, according to Brown, not a single contest was decided Tuesday, the candidates selected by the respective parties being without opposition and assured of places on the November ballot. Such a situation existed at Cincinnati, Brown said, both the Republican and Democratic tickets proposed being nominated without opposition.

INDUSTRIAL LOOP TO END SCHEDULE HERE SATURDAY P. M.

GAMES in the Industrial League will be finished Saturday, according to an announcement of Earl Burgner, executive secretary of the Community Recreation Association which has sponsored the factory loop this season.

In order to wind up the schedule, figure the percentages and announce the city industrial championship at once, all games will be played at Reserve Park, Cincinnati Avenue. The first contest will be the game between the H. and A. Commercials and H. and H. and S. Binders, which will decide which of these teams gains supremacy in their factory.

Immediately following this opening game, the two and one-half minutes left over from a previous game between the Pennsylvania Railroad nine and the Binders will be played off for a decision. At the conclusion of this extra bit, the Pennsylvania nine will tangle with the Kelly Kords in the final game of the season.

Two victories by the railroaders will give them the loop title handily, while the Shoes are practically assured of second position. A game between the winners of the Industrial League in Xenia and the champion of the Dayton Industrial League has been proposed by no response has been received from the Dayton officials. The game was suggested as fitting close to the first successful industrial league season here.

The score was 20 to 4 in favor of the Dayton team.

BAYLIFF GAME TO BE STARTED AT 2:30

SELLS SCOTSBURN APARTMENT HOUSE TO LIMA BUYER

A business deal has just been closed by which Frank Davidson has sold the Scotsburn Apartment house on West Main Street and the new five-room bungalow on the lot to C. P. Cooks of Lima, Ohio. By the terms of the deal Mr. Davidson sells everything except the stock of grocery which he has been conducting in the apartment building. He has the privilege of retaining possession of the grocery for sixty days and said Friday that he will continue the business for that length of time.

The apartment building, which was remodeled a few years ago, contains thirty-seven rooms. Mr. Cook expects to move to this city and to occupy the new bungalow as a home. Mr. Cook announces that he will continue to conduct the apartment just as Mr. Davidson has done and that no changes of any kind are contemplated.

Mr. Davidson, who has been the owner of the Scotsburn apartments for more than two years, has not yet decided on his future plans. He expects to take a vacation for a time.

Styles BY LENORE

Play days will soon be over, but if school time must come, there are compensations in new clothes. A truly French idea is suggested in the combination frock sketched today. Certainly it cannot be said of this model that it smacks of grown-up fashions. And that, notwithstanding the fact that it is an adaptation of an adult model which was worn at the races in Paris recently.

This design demonstrates what might be done by any young girl who succumbed to the fashion for printed silk dresses. A smart little belote of Poiret twill—a skirt, or rather a tunic that reveals the colored silk frock—and presto! she has a costume infinitely chic for street wear or to travel in if she has to leave home for school, or exceedingly serviceable for all-round wear with or without the cloth addition. The edges are braid-bound. And need I add what a golden opportunity this is for the use of a worn-out suit?

For the younger generation one-strapped slippers continue to be smart both for informal and dress occasions.

The contest committee of the Greene County Farm Bureau and Grange picnic, consisting of Fred R. Keeler, Herbert Conklin and Erle Hutchison, have prepared an interesting program of games and contests for the enjoyment of the farmers and guests from over the state at the Greene County Fairground, August 24.

The contests for boys include the following: 100 yd. dash, first prize $1.00; second prize, fifty cents; Wheelerbar race, first prize, $1.00; second prize fifty cents; Horse-shoe pitching, first prize $1.00; second prize, fifty cents; obstacle race, with a box of candy as the prize.

ELECTRIFIES FARM

Mr. W. F. Lewis, living South of Jamestown has electrified his farm with a power and light plant.

NEW JASPER

Mr. F. S. Dale is installing a new sorghum plant here, where he will employ several men, in addition to his broom factory. The plant makes quite an improvement to New Jasper.

Fresh gravel is now being distributed through New Jasper, and at road intersections.

Through the township trustees, William Fudge, Eritus Huston, Huston Evans, improvements on several roads have gone forward. In the last year, they have opened up a gravel pit on the S. B. LeValley farm near Mount Tabor, where they expect to secure gravel for the Paintersville and Waynesville road.

Two events are scheduled for the men, a horse-shoe pitching contest, with a box of cigars for a prize and a tug-of-war, with ten men and 20 women to the teams.

WHITE CAMEL TO BE SEEN AT CIRCUS HERE

Long famous for strange and curious forms of animal life to be found in no other zoological garden or menagerie "Golden Bros." Big Four Ring Trained Wild Animal Circus this year contains an exhibit which is just now occupying the attention of scientists and naturalists everywhere.

It is the only white camel ever seen in captivity, and the only one ever brought to this country. Prof. Knude, who has given a great deal of study to the subject claims he finds this remarkable animal a descendant of the few white camels which survived the storms which about the year 1700 overwhelmed the villages of the Gobi Plateau and killed all the people; at any rate it is a prize of which any circus might justly boast and yet it is but one of the many valuable displays made by the Golden Bros.

"But he has $10,000, John," mother replied, "more, ten times more than we ever have had ahead in all our married life. Surely they can get along nicely on that with what he can earn?"

"That's just it, Mary, can he earn? And if he has to, will he? I have no objections to a writing man. Some of them I understand are very successful, very hard workers. But Paul has great ideas of his ability, ideas that have so far brought him in nothing. Then, too, he has, he must have extravagant tastes. When I think of $40,000 squandered in six years it makes me shudder. Forty thousand is a fortune! I wonder what he did with it, I wonder if he has wives we know nothing of."

"I hope not, for Ruby's sake. She is very much in love with him, thinks everything he does or says is right. She has always been a good girl—good spender."

Friday evening at the Central High playground at seven o'clock there will be another playground entertainment for the benefit of the community.

A clever program has been arranged by the supervisor Miss Bailey, consisting of special saxophone numbers, clogging, singing, comic recitations, a monologue, and orchestra selection. The majority of this program will be of local talent. It is a well balanced entertainment and it is hoped that a large crowd may attend.

DISARMAMENT TREATIES IN EFFECT

INTERNATIONAL PEACE MOVE IS NOW CONCLUDED

CEREMONIES SIMPLE Most Important International Accomplishment of Harding Term

Washington, Aug. 17.—The most important international accomplishment of the Harding administration—the conclusion of treaties under which the great powers of the world agreed to scrap most of their big warships and to maintain peace in the Pacific for at least ten years—has been consummated.

The four-power Pacific treaty of the Washington armament conference between United States, Great Britain, France and Japan, which provides simultaneously for the termination of the Anglo-Jap alliance of 1911; and the five-power naval treaty between these four nations and Italy, went into effect at noon today with the formal deposit of ratifications at the State Department.

The naval treaty remains in force until December 31, 1936, and the ratificatory treaty until August 17, 1933, but both agreements will continue in effect indefinitely unless one of the contracting powers gives notice of intention to withdraw at the end of the specified period.

In the words of the late President Harding, spoken at the conclusion of the Washington conference, these treaties "have inspired a new hope for the world because they mark the beginning of a new and better epoch in human progress."

Simple ceremonies in the diplomatic rooms at the State Department marked the deposit of ratifications.

The United States was represented by Secretary of State Hughes who was chief of the American delegation at the armament conference. H. G. Chilton, chargé d'affaires of the British embassy, acted for Great Britain and Andre De La Boulaye, chargé d'affaires of the French embassy, for France; Senor Augusto Rosso, chargé d'affaires of the Italian embassy, for Italy, and Ambassador Masanao Hanjihara, who was one of the Japanese delegates at the conference, for Japan.

Arranged Funeral Trains For Two Presidents.

Above is shown Elmer Dover, who 22 years ago arranged for the funeral train that carried the remains of the late President McKinley from Washington to Canton, Ohio, for interment. Mr. Dover, a prominent Ohio politician, was in San Francisco at the time President Harding died and was called upon to act again in the capacity of director for the funeral train.

CHEMISTS SOLVE MYSTERY OF FIRES WITHHOLD DATA

The mysterious fires at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. DeWine, near Old Town, are now practically a closed incident so far as the investigation is concerned.

Dr. Clyde F. Adams, chemist at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, and his assistant, Austin G. Edeson, who have been investigating the mystifying cause of the conflagrations since Monday, consider the problem practically solved, they announced Friday.

Because the chemists wish to conduct further tests and desire to be absolutely certain in their deductions before they make the explanation of the fires public, they are withholding the solution until they can make a formal report in a few days. In the meantime tests will be continued designed to bring further proof of the correctness of their discoveries.

The fire Thursday morning, when washable clothing in a chest caught fire and flames shot two feet high before being discovered, is the last of the mysterious fires to visit the DeWine home. Mr. and Mrs. DeWine are still spending the nights with Mr. and Mrs. John DeWine of this city but are preparing to move into their cottage along the Little Miami river Saturday. They will occupy the cottage until assured there will be no repetition of the unusual fires.

With the announcement of chemists that they have discovered the cause of the fires, but are withholding the solution temporarily, the theory advanced by William DeWine, relative of D. A. DeWine, and Springfield and Xenia traction conductor is exploded. He advanced the suggestion that short electric circuits in the atmosphere, caused by the house being surrounded by natural conductors, was to blame for the conflagrations.

TWO YEAR FIGHT WON BY WOMAN IN LIQUOR CASE

Eighty Four Arrests Made In Bootlegging Investigation

LEADERS IN TOLLS

Assistant Attorney-General Victorious in Long Battle for Law.

Washington, Aug. 16.—Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt, assistant attorney general, won a two-year fight against what she said was America's greatest bootlegging venture.

As a result 84 arrests have been made in Savannah, Ga. Of this number a quartet of leaders are known throughout the United States east of the Mississippi. Untold quantities of liquor found its way to the principal marts through the ingenuity of the "big four," who in turn amassed fabulous wealth, according to Mrs. Willebrandt.

The long hunt for the alleged ring-leaders has been carried on with the greatest secrecy, Mrs. Willebrandt said. The trail led to almost every section of the United States east of the Mississippi. Untold quantities of liquor found its way to the principal marts through the ingenuity of the "big four," who in turn amassed fabulous wealth, according to Mrs. Willebrandt.

The attention of Mrs. Willebrandt to the case was called when federal officials learned that most of the illicit liquor sold in America came through Savannah. It was impossible at first to associate any of those arrested with connection with the liquor, Mrs. Willebrandt said, so it was determined to check up the suspects under the income tax laws.

Examination of checks and deposits in the banks led to indictments for failure to pay income taxes. In getting the necessary papers before the grand jury in this matter, documents were found which led to the procurement of other evidence.

As a result, the "big four" were indicted charged with failure to pay income taxes, violation of several sections of the Volstead act and the customs law against smuggling, as well as conspiracy.

William Haar is said to be the king of them all. He is the son of a Georgia grocer, himself at one time a grocery clerk. Now he is rated as one of the wealthiest young men in Georgia. From small operations, beginning at home with small boats operating to rum smugglers, he has developed into America's greatest importer, she said. As an evidence of the size of his individual operation, he is charged with owing the treasury an income tax of $1,000,000, in addition to what he already has paid. Others making up the "big four" are said to be C. Graham Boughn, Richard Bailey and Sam Goldberg. Each of these is said to have had a separate organization, in no way associated with the others financially.

Among the 80 others who are under indictment and arrest is John J. Powers, vice president of the Exchange bank. Others include subordinates, principally alleged rum-runners and operators of automobiles and boats in which the liquor was transported.

HIGH PRESSURE WAVE CAUSES COLD SNAP

Columbus, Aug. 17.—Weatherman Alexander yesterday held high pressure wave, circling out of the Northwest, responsible for the prevailing cool wave.

The area extends over practically the entire state and as far west as the Dakotas all of which territory experienced a 20 degree drop Wednesday night. When the weather bureau assistant experts went to work at eight o'clock yesterday morning the temperature was 62 but shortly after this hour a gradual change, hardly visible to the naked eye or skin, was noted, with the result that at noon the official mercury hovered around the 68 mark. At eight o'clock last night it was again on its downward path, just passing 66. Mr. Alexander ventured the opinion it might get down as low as 60 or 55 by this morning. The cool wave will pass east in a day or two, he predicted leaving Columbus as warm as is customary at this season of the year.

ALLEGED ILLEGAL COMBINATION TO FIX "GAS" PRICE TO BE PROBED

Washington, Aug. 17.—A suit in equity under the general criminal statutes to break up alleged combinations to control gasoline prices was being planned today by the Department of Justice.

Attorney General Daugherty has not decided when federal action will be instituted and the time and place of initiating suit will depend upon a summary of the reports now being filed with the Bureau of Investigation with respect to the "gasoline price war."

Examination of checks and deposits in the banks led to indictments for failure to pay income taxes. In getting the necessary papers before the grand jury in this matter, documents were found which led to the procurement of other evidence.

The relation of the so-called independent oil companies to the larger concerns also is being made the subject of investigation. The records of these producers are being carefully examined by legal experts of the department, and will be submitted later to the attorney general.

Public pressure for governmental action has spurred the Department of Justice to ignore the comparatively slow processes of the Federal Trade Commission which is said to be powerless to apply corrective measures in the present situation.

U. S. attorneys have been instructed to gather evidence of conspiracies to fix or control of prices, and are writing their findings to the attorney general.

Thus far, however, there has not been sufficient proof that this combination among the old companies has gone far enough to establish clearly that "illegal agreements" are in existence.

STEBENVILLE'S KLAN WAR TAKES ANOTHER TURN

MINE OPERATORS AND WORKERS TO LAY CASE BEFORE PRESIDENT

Deadlock Grips Conference and Hopes of Peace in Anthracite Field Blasted As Further Trouble Arises

New York, Aug. 17.—It was reported this afternoon, apparently from a reliable source, that deadlock in the anthracite coal controversy was broken.

According to this information the operators and representatives of the miners agreed to meet in Atlantic City Monday morning to resume negotiations in an effort to avert strike in the anthracite fields September 1.

It was said that formal announcement of the agreement would be made later in the day.

New York, Aug. 17.—Both sides in the anthracite coal controversy were preparing today to lay their cases before President Coolidge.

STEUBENVILLE'S KLAN WAR TAKES ANOTHER TURN

Victim of Bullets Found On Street Early Friday Morning.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—A general strike in the hard coal fields seemed certain when John Hays Hammond, chairman of the coal commission, issued a statement saying the operators and miners could not reach an agreement.

"Up to this time no progress has been made," said Mr. Hammond, "and frankly, the outlook is discouraging. We, however, will continue our best. I have no further comment to make."

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, who was present when Mr. Hammond made his announcement, reiterated that the miners would walk out Sept. 1 unless a new agreement, containing a "check-off" clause, was signed before that time.

Mr. Lewis declared there was a "lack of sincerity" on the part of operators in suggesting that the operators would forego their right to "check-off" from miners' wages for various items, if the unions would drop the "check-off" system of collecting its dues from the miners. The operators presented their proposals in written form, Mr. Lewis said, and the unions then found they could not accept them.

The operators said they would write the check-off agreement into the next wage agreement so far as the laws of Pennsylvania would permit," said Lewis. "We did not know what that expression meant. It befogged the issue, because the law of the land must take precedence."

Other objections found to the operators' written proposals by Lewis was that the operators assumed that the demand of the men for a check-off and for a two-year agreement would be dropped; that the operators proposed to take away credit of the miners at company stores; that the operators wanted to deal with the men individually instead of through the union and that the operators assumed that if an agreement were reached now it would mean there would be no suspension of work Sept. 1. Lewis said he could make no agreement on any of these terms now.

Samuel D. Warriner, chairman of the coal operators' committee, said: "We made a straightforward statement to the miners and they have refused to accept it. We have nothing now to say."

Washington, Aug. 17.—Cognizant of the critical turn of the anthracite coal negotiations in New York between the coal commission and operators and miners, President Coolidge today summoned three cabinet officers—Secretaries Hoover and Work and Attorney General Daugherty—to the White House to discuss what possible additional moves the federal government may take to avert a strike.

The nature of the plans discussed was not disclosed but it was intimated that the administration will do nothing until the report of the commission has been submitted to the president.

COOLIDGE MEANT JUST WHAT HE SAID;

Those doubting Thomases who have been perturbed at what might happen to the national welfare because of President Coolidge's succession had their answer. The definite reassertion of the Harding program, foreign and domestic, by the President and a united and harmonious Cabinet will show the country that Mr. Coolidge meant what he said the morning President Harding died. It will be received everywhere with relief and profound satisfaction.

Mr. Coolidge's first Cabinet meeting possessed a significance which may attach to no other assemblage of his official advisers during the entire course of his incumbency. For its decisions and the relations which were found to exist among its members will be universally interpreted as marking the keynote of the Coolidge administration, the seal of its stability and the index of intelligent determination.

The promise to adhere to the Harding policies made by Mr. Coolidge in his earliest announcement to the people must now be accepted everywhere, at home and abroad, at full par value. And the reassertion by all the members of the Cabinet of their intention to retain their places and discharge their duties as though there had been no interruption of the continuity of their tenure is an assurance to the country against unsettling uncertainty that often attends a change so momentous as the installation of a new directing head of the Federal Government.

But the Cabinet went further than merely to make general promises in dealing with all unfinished issues and problems. There was comfort and reassurance for the people of the Middle Atlantic and New England States in the statement that no measures would be omitted to protect their interests in the matter of a fuel supply in the event of a strike and that it would be the purpose of the Federal authorities to see that substitute fuels were forthcoming.

In the wider field of foreign relations the accord of the President and Cabinet was no less reassuring. The definite announcement was made that the Coolidge administration would stand firmly by the policies formulated in Secretary Hughes' New Haven speech last December. In that carefully studied utterance the Secretary made it plain that while the United States was by no means indifferent to the problems and troubles of Europe and stood ready to contribute its share in their adjustment, the question was essentially a European one, the crux of which was reparations.

In reaffirming this general position of helplessness and of disinterestedness with respect to reparations, the Government stands by its policy that the foreign war debts owed to this country must be paid, holdings now, as it did then, "that Germany's capacity to pay is not at all affected by the indebtedness of any of the Allies to us." The march of events in Europe, and especially in the Ruhr, has not materially changed that position, but has strengthened the determination of this Nation not to be drawn into the drawn into the conflict of interest and ambitions which are now vied by all the parties in interest. The President and the Cabinet are no more inclined today than they were in December, when Secretary Hughes enunciated the Government's policy, to be drawn into the conflict of interest and ambitions which are now severing the Allies and increasing the difficulties of settlement.

With the President and Cabinet united and harmonious, the country may rest content that the Government's prudent course will not be altered, that it has not been affected by the obvious propaganda from British sources devised to draw us into the maelstrom of European politics and that without seeking to intrude in those troubled waters it still holds itself in readiness to fulfill its obligations to civilization and humanity, to keep the peace and contribute to the limit of its ability to the restoration of a disorganized and demoralized world.—Public Ledger.

HIS CONSIDERATE CHARACTER

One of the most gracious and thoughtful acts of the late President Harding's life has just come to light. He had never mentioned it himself and it was told after his death by a member of his official family.

When Mr. Harding went to Washington as President he took with him his family physician, Dr. Sawyer, giving him, as is customary, a high military rank. Rear Admiral Carey T. Grayson had occupied the same post with President Wilson. He had been Mr. Wilson's physician for eight years and knew more about Mr. Wilson's ailments than any other physician. It was important to Mr. Wilson's continuance of life to his physical well-being, that Dr. Grayson remain in attendance upon him. Ordinarily, the doctor being a naval officer, would have been, upon General Sawyer's accession, transferred to another post or line of duty.

No one asked Mr. Harding about the matter and none suggested this to him. Mr. Wilson probably would have been the last man to have made such a request. But the new President immediately upon appointing General Sawyer, also issued an order directing the Navy Department to assign Rear-Admiral Grayson to continuous duty in Washington, so that he could still attend Mr. Wilson. He added to the order, making it stronger, that Dr. Grayson was not under any circumstances to be ordered elsewhere except with the President's consent. Dr. Grayson remained in attendance upon the former President.

It was a revelation of the thoughtful and considerate character of Mr. Harding.—Tampa Tribune.

"Had I known about Ka-di-ik a year or two ago I could have saved myself a lot of suffering from kidney trouble, as the very first bottle brought me relief. Before I heard of Ka-di-ik I did not know what a good night's rest meant. I had pains across my back; was very nervous, and felt tired and worn out during the day and steadily lost weight.

"I have only used Ka-di-ik for a few weeks and feel like a new man. I am free from backaches, eat well, and sleep fine. I am 47 years of age and am as strong and well today as I ever was. I can truly recommend Ka-di-ik; it goes right to the spot and is a real medicine."

Ka-di-ik is an herbal remedy and can be taken to excellent advantage as a tonic during all seasons of the year. It is especially beneficial in cases of stomach, liver, and kidney trouble, impure blood, and for persons in a rundown, debilitated condition.

THE LITTLE MERCIES

He who is good to a little child Will long remember the day she smiled.

He who has given to a stranger food, Will long remember his gratitude.

He who has praised and spurred youth on Will have that day to look back upon.

He who has served in an hour of need,

Can cherish the thought of one kindly deed.

He who has lightened another's pain, Never more may think he has lived in vain.

This for our comfort, both yours and mine, Through the gloom of failure the good will shine.

Though our dreams in ruin about us fall, We shall be blessed by our mercies small.

Today's Talk

THE SOLITUDE OF THE SOUL

In the Chicago Institute of Art is one of the most beautiful pieces of marble creation in all America—perhaps in all the world. It is called "The Solitude of the Soul" and is by Taft.

As you walk into the impressive building, this statue stands to the right, almost hidden under the wide stone stairway.

You are immediately arrested. You stand in reverent admiration. You feel solitude in your own soul, as you study the lines of the noble figures of male and female as they are wrapped about that great piece of marble and lost in its silent heart.

You ask, what is this solitude so divinely depicted? And then the answer is already given, for you understand without being able to express this understanding.

You reach for God and He reaches for you. You cannot see Him—but you know that He comes to you.

There are times when the world seems too big for us and we want to be all alone. And so we call out for solitude, peace, rest—and tread softly into the chamber of these secret souls of ours where we find that which the world is unable to give.

The sculptor must have cut into the noble marble the impressions of his own soul as his hammer and chisel worked their way.

For our revealed acts are those that have first been impressed upon us.

You rise to the highest pinnacle of your desires as your spirit is washed in your solitary soul. And it is your own true knowledge that makes you rise to live and to lead.

DEATH REVEALS STRANGE ROMANCE

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 17.—Death revealed a strange romance here today when a dead man was found to have assumed the name of the husband of a woman whom he hoped to wed.

Everett C. Martin, son of a Chicago business man was crushed by an elevator at a department store where he was employed under the name of John W. Hester.

At Christ Hospital, he gave his address as 220 West Sixth Street.

Later a woman, calling herself Mrs. Eta Hester, who said she was the wife of John W. Hester of Herman and Hunter Avenues, Dayton, Ohio, called at the hospital and arranged for removal of Martin's body. The woman explained that he had taken her husband's name because, with her marriage certificate, she had resided at the Sixth Street address and he hoped to avoid being separated from her until she could obtain her legal freedom to marry him.

Hester brought suit for divorce three weeks ago, according to advices from Dayton.

McClelland Neighborhood

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wright of Van Eaton road are announcing the birth of a daughter, August 10.

Louis Strain, who has made his home with James Schaeffer for several years has gone to Dayton to be with his father.

The social given Thursday, August 9 by the Glad Community Club in opening the community house was a very pleasant affair, a large number being present to enjoy the occasion. Rev. W. H. Tilford of Xenia gave an inspiring talk along the line of welfare work. Rev. Walley of Spring Valley assisted with the program. Several selections by the Grange orchestra were very much appreciated. The club extends thanks to the orchestra and speakers for their assistance.

Mrs. Lucy Keiter with Thelma and Louise are keeping house for Mr. and Mrs. Billmeyer.

Mrs. Earl Soward and little son Warren are spending the week in Cincinnati, visiting relatives.

EAST END

The opening of the great religious chautauqua and revival campaign at evening was greeted with a good attendance. Evangelist Jeltz preached in the East High auditorium Wednesday. He spoke from Ezekiel 37:3: "Can these bones live?" A chorus made up of the city church choirs rendered fitting music for the occasion. The evangelicals begin at seven p.m.

Evangelist Jeltz again brought a message to his hearers Thursday evening from the text, "Ye must be born again." His words are not only forceful but they are helpful and are especially directed for these first nights to the believers.

Mrs. Anna Thomas in company with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Minnie Thomas who have been guests of friends and relatives in Pittsburgh have returned home.

Mrs. Calvin Hatcher, who has been the guest of her children and other relatives in Indianapolis returned home Thursday.

Miss Birdie Horton of Cincinnati, will be the week end guest of her cousin, Mrs. Jessie Hall of East Church Street.

Mr. James W. Locust and wife of Louisville, Ky., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Porter, of Taylor St.

A BANQUET THAT WAS ALMOST A TRAGEDY

"Three years ago at a banquet I was stricken with acute indigestion. Two doctors worked over me for an hour before I came to. I had had severe cold attacks before, but nothing like that. No doctors or medicine gave me permanent help until a friend, who was at the banquet, advised me to take a course of May's Wonderful Remedy, which I did with wonderful results. It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. ### REVISION OF LAW IS CONTEMPLATED

Columbus, Aug. 17.—Change in the Ohio election laws to eliminate useless expense of primaries when there are no contests for nominations was advocated by Secretary of State Brown. Large expenditures of money are involved under the present law for elections which, in many instances, are unnecessary, Brown pointed out. In a number of cities, according to Brown, not a single contest was decided Tuesday, the candidates selected by the respective parties being without opposition and assured of places on the November ballot. Such a situation existed at Cincinnati, Brown said, both the Republican and Democratic tickets proposed being nominated without opposition.

APPROVES GEDDES' SUGGESTIONS.

New York, Aug. 17.—Robert E. Tod, former commissioner of immigration at Ellis Island, concurred largely with Ambassador Geddes of Great Britain in his criticism of conditions on Ellis Island. "Conditions could be greatly improved," said Mr. Tod, "if congress would grant the money to improve them. This year only $50,000 has been appropriated for the island. As Ellis Island is a $10,000,000 plant, that sum will not go very far. It will pay for the painting job."

PROBATE JUDGE NAMED.

Columbus, Aug. 17.—Raymond A. Kerr, Democrat, of Tippecanoe City, has been appointed probate judge for Miami county by Governor Donahoe, to succeed the late Judge E. M. Bell. Kerr was two terms prosecutor of Miami county.

Because Clark County Fair races at Springfield are being run on the three heat plan, money divided after each heat, Fred Porter, owned by F. W. According to Weimer, his trotter has never been outside the money in nine starts this summer. He divided first, second and third money here during the Fair when rain stopped the event. BLOOD impurities are pumped by the heart into the face. That is what causes that grainy appearance, that muddiness, sallowness, pimples, blackheads, acne, red spots, and that impossible "something" which no face cream, massage, or face powder can cover up or beautify! The foundation for a beautiful skin simply is not there, and no face treatment can give it to you. But increase your red-blood-cells,—and quickly, the ruby tint of purity begins to glow in the cheeks, the complexion becomes vein-like and immaculate! Try it. It will do it every time. S. ## INDUSTRIAL LOOP

TO END SCHEDULE

HERE SATURDAY P. M.

Games in the Industrial League will be finished Saturday, according to an announcement of Earl Burgner, executive secretary of the Community Recreation Association which has sponsored the factory loop this season.

In order to wind up the schedule, figure the percentages and announce the city industrial championship at once, all games will be played at Reserve Park, Cincinnati Avenue. The first contest will be the game between the H. A. and Commercials and the H. and S. Binders, which will decide which of these teams gains supremacy in their factory.

Immediately following this opening game, the 25 and one-half minutes left over from a previous game between the Pennsylvania Railroad nine and the Binders will be played off for a decision. At the conclusion of this extra bit, the Pennsylvania nine will tangle with the Kelly Kords in the final game of the season.

Two victories by the railroaders will give them the loop title handily, while the Shoes are practically assured of second position. A game between the winners of the Industrial League in Xenia and the champion of the Dayton Industrial League has been proposed but no response has been received from the Dayton officials. The game was suggested as a fitting close to the first successful industrial league season here.

SELLS SCOTSBURN APARTMENT HOUSE TO LIMA BUYER

A business deal has just been closed by which Frank Davidson has sold the Scotsburn Apartment house on West Main Street and the new five-room bungalow on the lot to C. P. Cooke, of Lima, Ohio. By the terms of the deal Mr. Davidson sells everything except the stock of grocery which he has been conducting in the apartment building. He has the privilege of retaining possession of the grocery for sixty days and said Friday that he will continue the business for that length of time.

The apartment building, which was remodeled a few years ago, contains thirty-seven rooms. Mr. Cook expects to move to this city and to occupy the new bungalow as a home. Mr. Cook announces that he will continue to conduct the apartment just as Mr. Davidson has done and that no changes of any kind are contemplated.

Mr. Davidson, who has been the owner of the Scotsburn apartments for more than two years, has not yet decided on his future plans. He expects to take a vacation for a time.

Styles BY LENORE

Play days will soon be over, but if school time must come, there are compensations in new clothes. A truly French idea is suggested in the combination frock sketched today. Certainly it cannot be said of this model that it smacks of grown-up fashions. And that notwithstanding the fact that it is an adaptation of an adult model which was worn at the races in Paris recently.

This design demonstrates what might be done by any young girl who succumbed to the fashion for printed silk dresses. A smart little belo of Poiret twill—a skirt, or rather a tunic that reveals the colored silk frock—and presto! she has a costume infinitely chic for street wear or to travel in if she has to leave home for school, or exceedingly serviceable for all-round wear with or without the cloth addition. The edges are braid-bound. And need I add what a golden opportunity this is for the use of a worn-out suit?

For the younger generation one-strapped slippers continue to be smart both for informal and dress occasions.

WHITE CAMEL TO BE SEEN AT CIRCUS HERE

Long famous for strange and curious forms of animal life to be found in no other zoological garden or menagerie "Golden Bros. Big Four Ring Trained Wild Animal Circus" this year contains an exhibit which is just now occupying the attention of scientists and naturalists everywhere.

It is the only white camel ever seen in captivity, and the only one ever brought to this country. Prof. Knude, who has given a great deal of study to the subject claims he finds this remarkable animal a descendant of the few white camels which survived the storm which about the year 1700 overwhelmed the villages of the God Plateau and killed all the people; at any rate it is a prize of which any circus might justly boast and yet it is but one of the many valuable displays made by the Golden Bros. Big Four Ring Trained Wild Animal Circus, which is to be seen at Reserve Park, Cincinnati Avenue, next Tuesday afternoon and evening, August 21.

ENTERTAINMENT TO OFFER LOCAL TALENT

Friday evening at the Central High playground at seven o'clock there will be another playground entertainment for the benefit of the community.

A clever program has been arranged by the supervisor Miss Bailey, consisting of special saxophone numbers, clogging, singing, comic recitations, a monologue, and orchestra selection. The majority of this program will be of local talent. It is a well balanced entertainment and it is hoped that a large crowd may attend.

A WIFE'S STORY

By Jane Phelps

RUBY'S PARENTS FEAR FOR HER FUTURE

Chapter III.

"I often wonder what Paul's principles are," I overheard father say to mother. "We really know very little about him. His legacy has allowed him to do as he pleased. He never has known the need of money."

"But he has $10,000, John," mother replied, "more, ten times more than we ever have had ahead in all our married life. Surely they can get along nicely on that with what he can earn."

"That's just it, Mary, can he earn? And if he has to, will he? I have no objections to a writing man. Some of them I understand are very successful, very hard workers. But Paul has great ideas of his ability, ideas that have so far brought him in nothing. Then, too, he has, he must have extravagant tastes. When I think of $40,000 squandered in six years it makes me shudder. Forty thousand is a fortune! I wonder what he did with it, I wonder if he has vices we know nothing of."

"I hope not, for Ruby's sake. She is very much in love with him, thinks everything he does or says is right. She has always been a good girl—her influence will keep him straight." "I hope so," father sighed as he spoke. "But a woman in love has too much faith in the man she loves to exert her influence as she perhaps might. She cannot see the need."

I moved away.

What ailed my family? Always finding something to worry about in connection with my marriage. I loved father and mother dearly yet I resented what they said about Paul. I thought them narrow, unfair. They would talk differently when he made big success.

I visioned the time when they would apologize for all they had said and thought. I would be generous and not hold it against them.

One day not long afterward I again overheard a conversation, this time between father and Tom.

"Have you been able to find out anything about Paul?" Father asked him.

"Nothing of any account," Tom replied. "He has been rather gay, but nothing disreputable so far as I can discover. Of course we know nothing of his life in Paris. I talked with a Harvard man who knew him in college. He was called a good fellow, a good spender."

"I can't help but wish we knew more," father said. "Ruby is so young. I trembled with indignation. Tom had been trying to find out about Paul, had played detective. It was no business of his what Paul had done. What if he had been a little gay, spent money? Other young men did. When we were married I would help him to be economical until his book came out.

"I wish he'd buckle to and sell something," Tom returned. "I'd like to see him earn a few dollars before he marries Sis. That ten thousand won't last him long if he spends as he has been doing."

"We can only hope for the best. Ruby is determined to have him." Father spoke sadly but I was so angry with Tom for meddling I paid no attention. Because he was earning money, Tom thought no one amounted to anything unless they also did. He had no vision, could not look ahead to such a future as was bound to come to Tom.

Paul was made of finer clay. I should have to be patient until he proved his ability; but it was hard to feel they were all against him. I must love him the more to recompense.

"Don't worry about money, Ruby. I'll always have it somehow," he said rightly. "I'm not the kind that can live without money. So just forget what you hear. Your folks are old-fashioned, a bit narrow. We'll live a very different life from what you have lived with them."

Of course I was convinced that he was right. The others all wrong.

In India's blazing heats—Dunlop Tires have proved that they keep cool.

"DUNLOP showed us— we'd like an opportunity to show you"

BEFORE we stock tires—we want facts. We want to know what we are talking about, when we recommend tires to our customers.

Dunlop took us at our word, and furnished facts—world-wide Dunlop facts.

Dunlop's 35-year record of achievement opened our eyes. And Dunlop isn't writing tire history in any one section or climate;—the highways of the world are Dunlop's proving grounds.

Neither India's blazing heats—nor the stinging cold of the frozen trails in the great Canadian Northwest—Africa's jungle-lined roadways—the rut-eaten paths of the Australian Bush—nor the steep, sloping passes of the Andes, can make Dunlops quit.

That's why we are Dunlop-Merchants,—and that's why we recommend Dunlops to you. We can sell you Dunlops for the same price as other reputable tires.
